

Desserters II

Book Club Discussion Group

Live Rich in the Age of the New Frugality: Are you in a quandary in this Age of the New Frugality? You know you should embrace the nascent revolt against consumerism but there skulks within you a reluctance to give up the hallmarks of "living rich": namely travel, access to knowledge, the latest technology, and, of course, decadent desserts. Desserters II can resolve your dilemma by allowing you all of these indulgences without risking the opprobrium of your peers. You will experience the adventures and thrills of Afghanistan, Russia, Japan, Sweden, Norway and even NEW YORK CITY as well as the comfort of the Midwest in Iowa and Nebraska. You will be privy to the sociological/cultural applications of esoteric mathematical theories. You will be pioneers using the most carefully guarded technological advance yet: Time Travel which currently can take you back up to 95 years to safely watch history unfold. All desserts are disguised as mundane sustenance. Your Carte Blanche card for all of this extravagance is cunningly disguised as a library card. Meet at the home of Eunice and Terry Boehlke on September 22nd at 7:30pm to embark for Afghanistan. Watch bulletin announcements for each month's meeting place.
